ENSEMBLE

Juliana Beyer
Kymberli Colbourne
Ken Kwartler
Beth Noelle
Josh Pfounders
Linda Smith

Juliana Beyer — Juliana is an Oregon native who grew up in West Linn and spent her youth studying voice and dance, and participating in musical theater in the Portland Area. She went to BYU and participated in their Folk Dance Team and University Chorus. After years of moving around the country, she finally convinced her husband to move to Oregon and they've been here for 9 years. Her favorite roles have been playing Marion in The Music Man in a church production and Maria in The Sound of Music with Sherwood Foundation for the Arts. She sang with Portland Ensign Choir for 5 years and currently sings and solos with Cantico Chamber Singers. Much love to her hubby, Jason, and mentor, Linda Brice.

Kymberli Colbourne — Kymberli recently moved to Beaverton and is thrilled to be a part of Side By Side with BCT. In 15+ years as a full-time actor, Kymberli has appeared onstage at Play Cline with Oregon Cabaret, Quocan Margaret with Seattle Shakespeare Festival, Mrs. Fairfax with Book-It Rep and Mrs. Beaver with Seattle Children's Theatre, to name just a few. When not onstage, you will find her behind the mic as a voice actor for radio and TV from her solo-powered in-home studio. An avid cyclist and recycler, she loves her new home in Beaverton and can't wait to contribute and become more and more a part of her new community.

Ken Kwartler — Ken is a musician, writer, intellectual property attorney, and occasional contributor to The Sondheim Review, a quarterly publication. He has provided music and original lyrics for a few small local productions, including the narration for this evening's performance. He would like to thank his family for their love and support, and Stephen Sondheim for the great enjoyment his work has provided.

Beth Noelle — Beth has worked professionally as a singer, voice teacher, and accompanist for over 30 years. Her work has spanned the musical spectrum from classical to pop, theatrical to choral. Beth's debut performance with BCT was in 2012 as Lucy van Pelt in

You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown. She has helped craft many a musical theater production, either as singer, pianist, or music director. Her first show experience was in 1978 at Beaverton's own Sunset High School, where she played Brigitta in The Sound of Music. Beth lovingly thanks her family and voice coach, Tom Blaylock, for their steadfast support and inspiration.

Josh Pfounders — Josh has served as Music Director for BCT since 2010 and currently serves on the board. On the BCT stage, he has appeared as Snoopy in You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown and in 100 Years of Broadway. Josh is a graduate of Aloha H.S. and Quachita Baptist University where he studied music education. He currently serves as Worship Pastor at FBC Beaverton and sings with the Oregon Chorus.

Linda Smith — "Linda Smith's . . . well-played . . . program of Brahms . . . Bach . . . and Chopin . . . is straight stuff. What makes her disc special is the inclusion of Samuel Barber's Piano Sonata. Barber's may be the perfect post-modern sonata with Baroque bits bumping up against jazz dissonance. Smith handles it all comfortably . . ." (Willamette Week). Smith has performed standard solo and chamber music to audiences nationally for over 20 years. Her strength as a pianist is her colorful interpretation, warmth, and solid technique.

Goal of the project was to beautify the Oak Tree Garden on Settler Way to complement the neighborhood's gardens, while enhancing an important entrance to the neighborhood.

Oak Tree Garden now includes several brightly colored totems that include the word “welcome” in 19 different languages.

The garden also includes over 600 bulbs, grasses, and other plants that have been planted over the past several years.

Greenway Neighborhood Garden Tour 2014

The Templar Garden 9390 SW Templar Place

150+ specimen conifers are the backbone of this yard planted for year-round interest. Next come the shrubs & deciduous trees chosen for colorful foliage & bark as well as winter bloom. Then there are the bulbs followed by the spring bloomers. Finally, the dozens of hostas & fuchsias steal the show until perennials from abutilon to zauschneria take over until frost and it all begins again.

The Hamiland's Garden 12065 SW Burnett Court

Welcome to the Hamiland's garden. Sit in the Adirondack chairs and watch the garden grow in 3 raised beds. Three levels of deck provide lots of entertaining space and views of the sun and shade gardens as well as a hot tub for relaxing. The 'highway' along the top of the fence allows our neighborhood squirrels a view of the roses as they pass by.

Marshall's Garden 12015 SW Settler Way

My garden is my sanctuary, my hobby, and one of my greater pleasures. The place that once housed a cut-up hot tub and a rusted-out shed has slowly become transformed to a place I call home. I am fortunate enough to live in an area where I can see all four seasons transpire within my own back yard.

Linda & JuJu's Garden 12010 SW Settler Way

This garden is an example of what happens when a Midwesterner moves to the Northwest and discovers four-season gardening. The front garden features a welcome path and garden totems. The many colors, shapes and textures of perennials is the inspiration for the various areas of the garden. The side garden features garden totems that tell the story of family and travel and the back garden features a sedum roof garden complete with statuesque goat. A secret "art" garden winds around the south side of the house - perfect for a morning cup of tea!

Wendy & Bill's Garden 12030 SW Settler Way

- ❖ A welcoming natural place: sharing with birds, frogs, beetles, bugs, toads, and people who want to hang out here. Garden totems highlight the garden's living creatures. A bee hive graces the front lawn.
- ❖ A learning place: I always experiment to see what likes it where; who likes whom as companions; how to correct drainage problems; and having something in bloom year-round.
- ❖ A place of comfort: niches in which to relax, sit, eat, hear birds singing and water running, read, nap and smell the flowers.

The Westfall Garden 11740 SW Burnett

Among Don's twenty-eight rose plants, we enjoy our "little piece of paradise." We enjoy dining on our backyard patio as much as we can in the nice weather with the heavenly scent of those roses! What a way to relax after a busy day.

Further Measures of Community Impact:

Almost 200 people were provided with a free, family friendly event, which there is a very high demand for.

Those in attendance reflected the diversity of the neighborhood, including many Spanish-speaking families. This type of diversity is rarely seen at the NAC meetings.

Most families were new to the neighborhood (2 years or less) so it was a great to educate them about the NAC, Visioning, and other programs.

Wonderland Park was renovated recently so it was a great chance to help celebrate its proximity to so many families.

Great partnerships with the Beaverton Elks who donated ice and tables, the Police Activities League (PAL) who helped to stuff the goodie bags for kids, and THPRD for loaning picnic tables.

Pages as Pillars Program at Chehalem Elementary

-Partnered with Vose NAC for Vose Elementary-

Overview of Project:

NAC approached Chehalem Elementary School over five years ago to ask about needs of the school. The answer was helping children improve their reading skills.

Program involves both getting books into the hands of children for home libraries and having volunteer adult readers from the community read to students at the school.

This year West Beaverton also partnered with the Vose NAC to provide books to children at Vose Elementary School.

West Beaverton NAC

Pages as Pillars Program at Chehalem Elementary

-Partnered with Vose NAC for Vose Elementary-

Measuring Community Impact by the Numbers:

Cash from City = $1,500

Volunteer Hours = $8,554.75 (393 hours)

In-Kind Donations = $501.23

Cash Donations = $4,354.93

Total Books Given to 243 Students = Over 2,171

Program Goal

To assist students at both Chehalem and Vose Elementary Schools in the development of their reading skills.

1. We provide books to the students so they can develop their home libraries.
2. We provide volunteers from the community who become reading partners with the students. These volunteers work under the supervision of the school's staff.

Need for Home Libraries

If the students are able to keep a few books each year, they could practice re-reading, read to themselves and to their siblings, and begin building that all-important home library. Research has shown that by age 5, children raised in poverty hear and understand up to 20,000 less words than middle-class children. Imagine how that divide grows as the children mature through elementary school and have no opportunity to practice reading at home. No chance to carve those words into their memory and no chance to close the gap.

Annual Benefit Garage Sale

Each year since 2011, the West Beaverton Neighborhood Association has held a benefit garage sale for the Pages as Pillars program. This is the main fundraising event for the program. In June of each year, the WBNAC members seek out donations to contribute to the garage sale. This sale is held during the Four Seasons Annual Garage Sale that brings an amazing amount of foot traffic to this event. All proceeds from this sale are donated to the Pages as Pillars program.

A book is a gift that lasts a lifetime. It becomes a part of who you are.

Dick Wert, owner of the UPS Store at Murray and Allen, Beaverton, is being recognized by Beaverton Mayor Denny Doyle and WBNAC Chair Sue Price for his Holiday Giving Program to benefit Pages as Pillars. Each year, during the holiday season, customers donate money to provide books for the students.

"With the support of the City and the NAC, this will be our fifth year of a most inspired offering for children. In the last four years, we have identified an oft-neglected need—building the homes libraries of children raised in poverty. These children do not have the means to access public libraries, do not have the funds to purchase their own books, and do not have the luxury of re-reading their favorite text to build fluency and enhance comprehension." "Last year, we were able to put 900+ books in the hands of more than 150 children. These children have a great advantage now, they are book owners"

Debbie Nicolai, Principal,
Chehalem Elementary School

Further Measures of Community Impact:

Great partnership between the city, West Beaverton NAC, Vose NAC, Beaverton School District, Chehalem Elementary School, the UPS Store on Murray Blvd., and Vose Elementary.

Provides a very fulfilling and impactful volunteer opportunity to community members in their own neighborhood.

Will improve the reading skills of dozens of students, especially students coming from low-income households.

Inspired Central Beaverton NAC to initiate a program called “Booked for Success” and Denney Whitford/Raleigh West NAC to initiate a book drive at McKay Elementary School
